

EXHIBIT C

Statement of Managerial and Technical Capability

Power-Finder West Communications, LLC ("Power-Finder" or "Company") is managerially qualified to provide resold interexchange telecommunications services in Illinois. Power-Finder's management team has considerable experience in strategic planning, market planning, sales, business and product development, customer service, finance, and other relevant areas. As demonstrated by the biographies of Power-Finder's management team appended to this exhibit, the Company will be managed by individuals with considerable experience in developing and managing the continuing operations of businesses. Each member of Power-Finder's management team will draw upon his own experience, as well as the collective experience of the entire management team, to ensure that Power-Finder is managed and operated efficiently and profitably.

Power-Finder is committed to providing its customers with services which excel both in quality and reliability. As a reseller, Power-Finder will necessarily rely upon the technical quality of its underlying carrier(s); however, Power-Finder will take all possible steps to ensure that its services meet or exceed the Commission's quality of service standards. Power-Finder will monitor operations closely, responding promptly to any indications of service issues.
